HONDO, MEDINA COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1930

VOL. 44 No. 45

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Harry B. Wernette was here the first of the week from San Antonio, looking after business and visiting with relatives and friends. Mr. Wernette furnished us with the pleasing information that the Sunflower Oil Corporation began drilling for oil May 12 on Survey No. 532 of the Mofield lands, about ten miles south of Hondo and are making satisfactory progress. The well is known as Louis Mofield No. 1, and is only a short distance from an old well that was abandoned some years ago but from which oil and gas still persists in escaping. There is every indication that the well will strike pay production.

Prof. J. L. Williams, for the past several years Principal of the public school at D'Hanis, was a business caller at this office Thursday. Mr. Williams informed us that he is leaving D'Hanis at once following the recent closing of the 1929-30 term of school. He and Mrs. Williams will go to Waco where they will make their future home with Mrs. Williams' father, Mr. D. G. Stewart, who is aged and afflicted. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have made many friends in Medina County during their several years residence at D'Hanis and all regret their departure from our midst.

The called meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night was attended by only a few who braved the threatening weather to attend. It was addressed by a practical creamery man from a neighboring town who is surveying the advantages of this section for a creamery, but the meeting adjourned without taking any action after it was developed in the discussion that other parties are contemplating establishing a privately owned creamery here.

Miss Lillian Brucks left Tuesday for Dallas, where she joined a tourist party for an extensive tour through the Eastern States and part of Canada. Among the party will be Miss Julia Schroeder, who was a member of Hondo High School Faculty. They expect to be gone the greater part of the summer.

A card from Mrs. Eugene Behan, mailed at Panama on May 17, brings the information that Capt. Behan and family were leaving that point that day on their long voyage to the Philippine Islands to which place he has been transferred for foreign service.

The little infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wolff was baptized in the Holy Cross Catholic Church Sunday, May 18. The name given the little Miss was Adeline Mary. Sponsors were Miss Alice Wolff and Mr. Arthur Lutz.

Mrs. C. E. Fuller and baby left Tuesday for San Angelo where they will join Mr. Fuller and the family will make its future home there. Mrs. Fuller has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rogers, at this place for some time.

Friends of the family sympathize deeply with Mrs. J. L. Williams of D'Hanis in the death at Waco, Texas, on April 29, of her aged mother, Mrs. D. G. Stewart. Death came to her rather suddenly from an attack of pneumonia.

Superintendent and Mrs. J. G. Barry and little daughter left Thursday for Smithville to visit relatives. From there Prof. Barry goes to work on his M. A. at Texas University.

Mrs. Katherine Monier and daughter, Miss Aimee of San Antonio and Miss Hazel Koch of D'Hanis are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Eugen Huesser and family.

Jacob Reinhart was over from Sabinal Monday on business. Mr. Reinhart said part of the Sabinal section was hard hit by a hail storm recently.

Joe Dillon, one of the Directors of the Border Highway No. 90 Association, attended a business meeting of the Directors at Del Rio Saturday.

Mr. Alberto Nagel, agent for the Nagel Monument Works of Fredericksburg, was here on business Wednesday and Thursday.

Another big cut—Jacobine Edison and William and Mary phonographs at 1/4 the regular price at C. R. Gaines.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma

C. M. HARGER, EDITOR OF THE ABILENE (KANSAS) REFLECTOR, SAYS:

THAT building a town is not a matter of a few men erecting and owning buildings or enterprises. That may be done and yet the town as a whole have but a faint touch of the enthusiasm needed to carry it to success. Nor is the largest town always the best. The best place to live is where there is the most of contentment and a job for everyone who wishes it.

A chamber of commerce is not a panacea for every ill that afflicts nor is it a preventer of all disaster. What is done is to unite the business interests of the community to secure for the town every good thing that will add to comfort and development. This includes streets, lights, schools, libraries, parks, new enterprises and advantages. It reaches into the intimate life of the people and means a benefit for all.

Towns do not simply grow. Nor can a town ever have everything it desires. It is smart if it does not waste time trying to get something it knows it can never secure. It is smarter if it does make the best of what it has and can conceivably obtain and brings that possession up to the highest point of usefulness for all the people.

A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS THE INDEX OF TOWN LIFE. IT SHOULD HAVE THE SUPPORT OF EVERY FIRM AND EVERY PROFESSIONAL MAN AS THE MOST USEFUL MEDIUM FOR DEVELOPING THE COMMUNITY.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Misses Cora and Ruby Rieber and Hulda Nester entertained with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eugen Huesser, complimenting Miss May Carle of D'Hanis, a bride-elect of next month.

The home was attractive in a color scheme of pink and white with ferns and flowers about the rooms. The bride-to-be was becomingly gowned in pink georgette and was escorted to her throne to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March.

The following toast was composed and rendered by Ruby Rieber:

Here's to the bride-to-be, so gay and fair,

With pretty blue eyes and golden hair.

And to cook a meal, she's hard to beat.

We're not the only ones telling of her fame,

For I am sure Thomas would tell us the same.

We hope your life will be filled with sunshine,

And health and happiness be always thine.

May sorrow and disappointment n'er come your way,

But contentment and gladness brighten each day.

Now please accept our gifts to you, As tokens to love ever so true.

And as you travel on life's highway, We hope you'll remember this eventful day.

A May pole in pink and white containing many beautiful and useful gifts was presented to the bride-to-be by little Mildred and Lloyd Huesser, who greeted her with a recitation. After the gifts were admired by everyone the bride-elect thanked her friends most kindly.

In the memory contest, Mrs. Robt. Weynand won first prize, a boudoir pillow; Corine Rieber, second prize, an embroidered glass towel; Mrs. Ed. Nester third prize, a cocoanut string-holder and Mrs. Will Turner the booby, a little groom, which were all presented to the bride. There was much laughter and fun when everyone read an advice to the bride.

The hostesses assisted by Mesdames Seb. Rieber, Eugen Huesser and Alvina Koch served devil's food and cocoanut cake, chicken sandwiches and punch, with pink baskets filled with mints as plate favors to the following: the honoree, Miss May Carle; Mesdames Louis Rieber, Harold Rieber, John Rieber, Joe Rieber, Matt Koch, Robert Weynand, Alb. Nester, Ben Koch, Joe Mechler, O. W. Tondre, Alf. Rohrbach, Ed. Nester, Ed. Rieber, Aug. Weynand, Will Turner, Hy. Batot, H. Nutt, John Koch, Regina Huegele, Mary Batot, John Zinsmeyer, Katherine Monier and Misses Evelyn Graff, Corine and Gladys Rieber, Sylvia Tondre, Etta Batot, Evelyn Koch, Aimee Monier and Hazel Koch.

Those sending gifts were Mesdames Alphonse Boog, Joe Haby, Louis Carle, Jr., Chas. Finger and Robt. Zerr who were unable to attend.

MISS SCHMIDT OF DEL RIO HONOREE OF MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Mesdames Alfred Biry, B. Bomba, E. C. Pruitt, Otto Bendele, Will Bendele, Bert Bendele and Louis Bendele honored their niece, Miss Adelina Schmidt, of Del Rio with a miscellaneous shower on Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Albert Bendele, Sr.

The reception rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion. An artistic arrangement of orchid Spanish thistle and white blossoms carried out successfully a color scheme of orchid and white.

To the strains of a wedding march Miss Schmidt, wearing a lovely dress of sheer white, was ushered, amidst a shower of rice, to her place of honor, a huge orchard chair. Her escorts were young cousins, Misses Estelle, Zedell and Ethel Bendele and Adella Biry. Then there appeared upon the scene a reminder of the days of long ago when the honoree's grandparents made their honeymoon trip to the scene a reminder of the days of long ago. A miniature covered wagon drawn by Master Richard Bendele. On the seat of which were perched Master R. D. and Little Miss Louise Henrietta, attractive three-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. B. Bomba of Devine. The twins were arrayed in the garb of pioneers and no straighter course was steered by the sturdy pioneers from whom these youngsters sprang than that through which they guided the small covered wagon filled with gifts from well-wishers, to the goal they sought, the throne of the fair and winsome bride-to-be, where a veritable "shower" of gifts took place. So many and varied were the gifts that it was necessary for the "pioneers" to make a number of trips in order to convey all to her, whom all were honoring.

At the close of the evening a salad course, with chicken and minced ham sandwiches, cake and iced tea was served to the following:

Mesdames Albert Bendele, Sr., A. Bendele, P. C. Jagge, A. E. Weynand, Armin Bendele, Robert Weynand, Joe Spettel, Henry Batot, Robert Bendele, Wm. Burger, Adolph Haby, J. W. Bendele, Wm. D. Schott, John Zuberbueller, E. J. Haby, Jos. Schmidt, H. V. Haass, Elmer Haby, Fred Jungman, Jake Haby, Ben Oeffinger, Frank Biry, Misses Louise, Zedell, Laura, Estelle, Julia, Marie, Ethel and Thelma Bendele, Mathilda Jungman, Agnes Ophelia, Pauline and Minnie Haby, Pauline and Marcelle Krenmueller, Mildred Schmidt, Henrietta Batot, Lillian Haass and the hostesses and honoree.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES.

In spite of a threatening electric storm Thursday night, a fair sized crowd witnessed the varied program, featuring school talent, which brought to a fitting close the successful scholastic year of the St. John's Parochial School, in the school auditorium. Songs, piano solos and duets, a clever farce—"Organizing a Young American Club"—and a pleasing comedy—"Mrs. Plodding's Nieces"—composed the evenings entertainment, followed with a closing address by the local pastor, Father T. A. Flynn.

You know the damage done by hail, we can protect you against this, call O. H. Miller.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By Will H. Mayes.

"All Texans for All Texas"

Rains and More Rains

May has been an unusually rainy month in Texas. In many sections there has been heavy damage from excessive rainfall and hail. Many crops will have to be replanted or abandoned to the grass and weeds. Fortunately it is not too late to plant crops of some kind that will mature before frosts, and with an unusual early summer season in the ground there is probably enough moisture to bring these crops to maturity with little or no additional rain during the summer. It is bad to have crops washed away or "drowned out," but Texas is wonderful for its recuperating propensities, and it is a safe guess to make that the farm production for 1930 will exceed that of any previous year in spite of the set-backs due to the May rains.

The Race is On

Texas has started upon its biennial campaign of mudslinging and for the next two months business will be neglected for politics, and politicians will be going up and down and across the length of this big State beseeching the votes of the people and making all kinds of insincere promises. It is heart-sickening just to anticipate the numerous contests for political jobs. There are some mighty fine folks running for offices of all kinds in Texas, but it does look like most of them feel that they must resort to desperate methods to attract and hold the attention of voters. And most of them are spending money out of all proportion to the positions they seek. Some day—and it should not be long delayed—there will be a return to the good old way of having the offices seek the men, instead of men making a wild scramble for office.

Poultry Clubs Increase

Pick up almost any Texas paper now, skip over the political and crime news, turn past the "sports page," and you will find that many who are taking time enough away from other things to make a little money are interesting themselves in poultry, buying baby chicks, running incubators, studying poultry raising and organizing poultry clubs. The increase in interest in this side-line of farming is the most surprising development of recent years. Almost every county in Texas has from one to a half-dozen or more poultry clubs, organized for co-operation in the business. The members are making the business pay until it is becoming a larger industry than cattle raising. The bank will tell you, too, that most poultry men have bank accounts built up from poultry rather than from cotton.

Jasper County Truck

Jasper County has pulled out of the rut and it has been done through the intelligent efforts of the farmers who have nearly abandoned the old "cotton and corn" farming system and are now interesting themselves in poultry and pigs and cows and in diversified truck farming. They are following modern methods and are organized for their mutual advantage. Among the crops grown on many of the farms are tomatoes, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cucumbers, beans, peas, melons, cantaloupes, cabbage, okra and a dozen other things. While most of them have small acreage in the various crops, by combining they are able to sell to best advantage.

Strawberry Profits

The Carrizo Springs Javelin says the average returns from strawberries grown in Texas is $172.80 an acre after reducing every item of production costs, including labor, interest on investment, crates, packing, shipping and selling costs. At Carrizo Springs the returns have been some $50 an acre more. The Rockdale Reporter says that a farmer near there

DO YOU KNOW?

That Dennis King, singing star of operettas, had to be persuaded by friends to try for a singing stage role, having insisted that he was a dramatic actor and not a singer?

That he was born in Coventry, Warwickshire, England, and educated in Birmingham, England?

That he enlisted in the British Army at the age of 16 and served two years in the World War?

That he came to the United States with the English stage company of "Monsieur Beaucaire" and remained here to take the role of Mercutio in Jane Cowie's "Romeo and Juliet"?

That in the past three years he has appeared continuously on the stage yet has been in only two shows, "The Vagabond King" and "The Three Musketeers" in which he was starred in New York and on tour?

That he stars in the leading singing role of the vagabond who becomes a monarch in Paramount's all-talking and singing, all-Technicolor film version of "The Vagabond King"?

has sold $55 worth of berries this season from a 20x60 foot plot, after canning the family supply for a year. If the berries can not all be sold fresh there is a good demand for the canned product. Why not plant more of them?

Falfurrias Melons

If you are eating ripe, luscious watermelons now they are probably coming from Falfurrias, where carload shipments are being made from about 4,000 acres. The crop is estimated at 1,000 cars. Ballinger, Elgin Weatherford and a number of other Texas towns are noted melon shipping points, but the first good taste of about the best-tasting product of Texas comes from Falfurrias. The Texas melon crop is reported almost free from pests and in fine condition.

Railroad Wants to Extend

The Fort Worth & Denver railroad is asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow it to build a line in Texas from Childress to Pampa, a distance of 113 miles. To one who knows Texas and its needs it seems that the permit would be granted without delay, but the commission is mighty careful to safeguard the receipts of existing lines, and the interests of the public seem to be a secondary consideration. Unshackle Texas and let it grow.

Timber Farming

A Rusk county farmer has paid $8,000 of an $18,000 debt in two years from the proceeds of his timber crop. He has cared for and cut his timber along scientific methods practiced in Europe, cutting only mature trees and logging so as to protect the young growth. There is hardly a section of East Texas where timber farming could not be made to pay along with the production of other crops, but methods most generally used there are destructive to young timber and wasteful to the young trees.

Additional Power Dams

Three additional power dams are to be constructed right away on the Guadalupe river between Seguin and Gonzales at a cost of approximately $3,000,000 each. This will make six hydro-electric units in that territory the others being just below New Braunfels, at McQueeney and just below Seguin. The same company that owns the Guadalupe plants has acquired the development rights on the Colorado near Marble Fall and is starting preliminary operations there. The next ten years will show much activity in hydro-electric power plants in Texas.

Evidence of Prosperity

San Benito loaded 1,006 cars of out-going freight in April, of which 1,005 were vegetables and one was household goods. There were 501 cars of incoming freight, 233 being ice for vegetable icing, 48 vegetable containers, 12 gasoline and oil, 19 automobiles and a large number of cars of building material of various kinds. Those figures tell a tale of prosperity.

Granite Industry Grows

The granite industry of Llano county has reached an output close to a million dollars a year with half a dozen quarries and finishing plants busy all the while. And the development of the industry has hardly begun. The business gives employment to about 200 men at wages far above those of common laborers. There is apparently no limit to the supply. The money earned from the granite is spent in Texas, most of it close by. Burnet county also has a vast granite field. There is marble in abundance of the finest kind at Del Rio. Building stone of the best is found in many places in Texas. Texas brick is unsurpassed in quality and beauty. Texas has lumber forests of vast acreage. Building material of practically every kind abounds in the State, including the highest types of road building material of all kinds. Why not build Texas by using Texas building materials in all Texas construction.

which comes to the Colonial Theatre Sunday and Monday, June 1 and 2.

Hondo High School conferred diplomas on 17 graduates at the closing exercises last Friday night. Supt. Barry complimented the class on its high standard of scholarship, and said each diploma had been duly earned and all were deservedly bestowed.

Mr. Horace Kelton of San Antonio delivered the graduating address and gave the young people some good and wholesome instruction on how to be the architects of a good and worthy moral character.

The services were pretty and impressive and the young people were recipients of many congratulations.

THE EIGHTH MEDINA RANCH FARMER'S SHORT COURSE.

Livestock, dairying and home making will be emphasized in the programs of the Medina Short Course and Encampment to be held for the eighth consecutive year at the Medina Hereford Ranch in Bexar county, July 16 to 18. Open to all the farm and ranch families in Southwest Texas, this annual educational outing conducted under the auspices of the A. and M. College Extension Service, in co-operation with business men of San Antonio, is expected to attract the usual large crowds which last year numbered about 4,000.

Practical demonstrations will be used by the College specialists to drive home the important aspects in Southwest farming and home making, with the entire ranch used as a school room. Many subjects will be discussed each hour during the three day session which begins Wednesday afternoon, July 16, and end Friday, night, July 18. Subjects to be discussed include beef cattle, hogs, dairying, sheep and goats, poultry, field crops, especially pastures, fruit and nut crops, and home making subjects. The whole family can enjoy the Medina Encampment this year just as they have been doing for the past seven years. An especially good vacation can be had by the women and girls of the family. Meals can be prepared in your own camp or can be bought at small cost at the commissary which will be run as before. This is a good time to take that long talked of vacation trip. Programs are being arranged which will fit the needs of the whole family.

The Short Course is held in a beautiful grove of live oaks and pecans adjacent to the Medina River, 18 miles west of San Antonio and two miles south of the Castroville road, with Mr. W. T. Montgomery as host. Facilities for camping such as sites, wood and water are furnished and every family is expected to come prepared to camp out and cook its own meals. A restaurant for transients is provided, however, and groceries and supplies may be purchased at nominal rates on the grounds. In addition to the educational features, the recreational aspects of the encampment are attractive. Supervised play for boys and girls is provided, including swimming, games and motion pictures. Details may be had by consulting local county and home demonstration agents.

ACTIVE WORK STARTED ON GAP AT D'HANIS.

C. P. Spangler tells us that he secured the last deed to the right-of-way for the D'Hanis gap and that active work is in progress. This means that the highway will extend on the South side of the Southern Pacific railroad to a point about three miles west of D'Hanis and then connect with the present paved highway on the north side by an underpass under the railroad tracks.

This is welcome news to every traveler on that road, and they hope the construction will be rushed and the three miles of unpaved road done away with.

A PRACTICAL POULTRY LIBRARY

Course of Study in Successful Poultry Keeping is offered to all who are working earnestly to earn a good livelihood and to substantially increase their profits from their poultry flocks. The secret of greater success and more profit is in knowing what to do and when and how to do it. To avoid the mistakes of others and take advantage of the methods that have been tried and proven, is the only short cut. This information can be found in its most complete form in Reliable Poultry Journal and the R.P.J. Poultry Library.

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do You Know:

1. How to identify your best layers?
2. What is "Prepotency"?
3. What is the difference between a breed and a variety?
4. How many hours of artificial light should hens have daily?
5. What is the actual difference between white and brown eggs?
6. Why is yellow better than white corn?
7. How were Rhode Island Reds originated?
8. What direction should a brooder house face?

ZEN of the Y. D.

A Novel of the Foothills

By ROBERT STEAD

Author of "The Cow Puncher," "The Homesteaders," "Neighbors," etc.

"Oh!" "seriously, Zen, do you imagine I came over here today simply to make a deal with your father?" "Wasn't that worth while?" "Of course it was. But it wasn't the whole purpose—it wasn't half the purpose. I wanted to see Y.D., it is true, but more, very much more, I wanted to see you."

She did not answer, and he could only guess what was the trend of her thoughts. After a silence he continued:

"You may think I am precipitate. You intimated as much to me once. I am. I know of no reason why an honest man should go beating about the bush. When I want something I want it, and I make a bee-line for it. If it is a contract—if it is a business matter—I go right after it, with all the energy that's in me. When I'm looking for a contract I don't start by talking about the weather. Well—this is my first experience in love, and perhaps my methods are all wrong, but it seems to me they should apply. At any rate a girl of your intelligence will understand."

"Applying your business principles," she interrupted, "I suppose if you wanted a wife and there was none in sight you would advertise for her?"

He defended his position. "I don't see why not," he declared. "I can't marriage on a purely intellectual basis he did not hesitate to bring his physical presence into the scale. He was accustomed to having his way—he had always had it—never did he want it more than he did now. . . . And although he had made his plea from the intellectual angle he was sure, he was very, very sure there was more than that. This girl, whose very presence delighted him—intoxicated him—would have made him mad—

"Will you say yes?" he repeated, and his hands found hers and drew her with his great strength up from her chair. She did not resist, but when she was on her feet she avoided his embrace.

"You must not hurry me," she whispered. "I must have time to think. I did not realize what you were saying until—"

"Say yes now," he urged. Transley was a man very hard to resist. She felt as though she were in the grip of a powerful machine; it was as though she were being swept along by a stream against which her feeble strength was as nothing. Zen was as nearly frightened as she ever had been in her vigorous young life. And yet there was something delightful. It would have been so easy to surrender—it was so hard to resist.

"Say yes now," he repeated, drawing her close at last and breathing the question into her ear. "You shall have time to think—you shall ask your own heart, and if it does not confirm your words you will be released from your promise."

They heard the footsteps of her father approaching, and Transley waited no longer for an answer. He turned her face to his; he pressed his lips against hers.

"Don't See Why Not," He Declared.

understand the general attitude of society toward matrimonial advertisements. Apparently they are too open and above-board. Matrimony should be committed in a round-about, indirect, hit-or-miss manner. A young man sees a girl whom he thinks he would like to marry. Does he go to her house and say, 'Miss So-and-So, I think I would like to marry you. Will you allow me to call on you so that we may get better acquainted, with that object in view?' He does not. Such directness would be considered almost brutal. He calls on her and pretends he would like to take her to the theatre, if it is in town, or for a ride, if it is in the country. She pretends she would like to go. Both of them know that the real purpose is, and both of them pretend they don't. They start the farce by pretending a deceit which deceives nobody. They wait for nature to set up an attraction which shall overrule their judgment, rather than act by judgment first and leave it to nature to take care of herself. How much better it would be to be perfectly frank—to boldly announce the purpose—to come as I now come to you and say, 'Zen, I want to marry you. My reason, my judgment, tells me that you would be an ideal mate. I shall be proud of you, and I will try to make you proud of me. I will gratify your desires in every way that my means will permit. I pledge you my fidelity in return for yours. I—I—Zen, will you say yes? Can you believe that there is in my simple words more sincerity than there could be in my mad ravings about love? You are young, Zen, younger than I, but you must have observed some things. One of them is that marriage, founded on natural respect, which increases with the years, is a much safer and wiser business than marriage founded on a passion which quickly burns itself out and leaves the victims cold, unresponsive, with nothing in common. You may not feel that you know me well enough for a decision. I will give you every opportunity to know me better—I will do nothing to deceive you—I will put on no veneer—I will let you know me as I really am. Will you say yes?' He had left his seat and approached her; he was leaning close over her chair. While his words had suggested

ROTHE'S SINGLE SCORES TWO RUNS FOR HONDO TO WIN FROM CASTROVILLE

Lawrence Rothe singled in the 10th inning with the bases loaded to drive in two runs and give the Hondo County Juniors last Sunday a game played on the ball di-viond of the losers. This was the second defeat for the Castroburgers, having been downed by Quihi 10 to 1 earlier in the season. Both teams played careless ball at times and committed numerous errors but the Hondo players tightened up in the pinch and hit when men were on base to take the victory.

August Finger turned in the best performance for both teams. Before leaving R. Embrey at pitching Aug-us playing great ball at second base, robbing R. Tschirhart of Castroville of a hit that would have earned two runs in the first inning and throwing out G. Holzhaus on

TWO GULF FILLING STATIONS OPEN.

Employees of the Gulf Refining Co. were here the first of the week and opened two new filling stations on the Highway, and checked in the new managers. They are now open and doing business.

Hondo Service Station, located at the corner of South Front Street and Lazy Avenue, in the west part of town, is under the management of Feix Richter, an old Hondo boy whom every one knows and who is experienced in serving the public in this capacity.

The Gulf Service Station at South Front Street and Frio Avenue is the furthest-out station on the east side of town. It is under the management of C. D. Foster, a former Devine boy, but a newcomer to Hondo.
Mr. Foster, however, is not a stranger to many of our people as he taught the Upper Quihi school a few years ago and made the acquaintance of many people in this section.

While catering to the public's needs in a general service way, of course both stations will specialize on Gulf products—made familiar to Anvil Herald readers years ago by Holloway Brothers' consistent advertising of "That Good Gulf Gas."

Display announcements of both stations will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Anvil Herald.

HONDO FOOTBALL TEAM FOR 1930-31 HAS CHANCE TO WIN FOOTBALL TITLE

Uvalde to be Strongest Contender for Championship; Cotulla,
Crystal City Strong

By Kooter Mac Grail

"I won't guarantee you a championship team, but Hondo will be in the thick of it next year—among the top four anyway."

And that is quoting Coach J. G.
Barry when questioned concerning the football prospects of the Hondo Owls for the coming season.

Hondo will have the fastest backfield in the district next year with Widrow at quarter, E. Taylor at full and Jones, Haegelin and Finger for halves. It is hoped that George Wilson will be in condition for the call for a heady little player like
"Ikey" doesn't hurt anybody's team.

The only backfield man that can probably out run a Hondo back is Smythe of Uvalde and, yes and—Smythe will be with the strongest team in the circuit. Uvalde will have speed, beef and fight in its Coyote team next year.

Yes, and Cotulla is not going to be a set-up for any man's team. Leo Bawlin had to overcome greenness of his players last year, but now that the boys know the principle of the game—look out for the big bullies from Cotulla.

Then the Crystal City team is not going to be a slouchy outfit either.
With Walker, the far-famed "Trapper," to do the spinning and calling of signals that Crystal City gang is going to win a few games at least.

Pearsall is rich in material but is going to suffer from losing Rocky Rundel as coach. Rundel is going to coach the Robstown Cottonpickers, a Class A outfit, that meets Main Avenue and Brackenridge High of San Antonio.

Del Rio caused a lot of grief for itself last year by taking a licking at the hands of Pearsall. The Mavericks of Pearsall have always been held in contempt and now nobody has a fear for Del Rio. The Wildcats used to be able to scare their way through half the game, but next year everybody will be looking for cat meat.

Devine will be in there fighting,
but when there isn't anything to fight with, you don't win many football games. A secret that isn't is that the Warhorses are going to throw fits into their opponents with a passing attack that will possess every form of known football pass and maybe a few unknown ones. Devine was too hard hit by graduation to be counted on as a strong team next year.

Sabinal, because it won the championship last year and lost several members by graduation, will receive plenty of battle from the other teams of the district. Now don't think that there won't be a team at Sabinal, because there will be one and in all probability a good one, too. But as everyone likes to beat the fellow that won before, all teams will be out to beat Sabinal.

Hondo has all but two gamss at home next year. The Owls have to go to Sabinal and Crystal City and they will be given a warm reception at both places. But if the Coaches can get the Owls to fighting—something the Owls wouldn't do last year —Hondo will have more than one win and two ties at the end of the season. Nothing more for a backfield can be asked for, but there will have to be some developing done on the line. The center of the line is fair and if there is no loafing at that spot next year, Hondo will have an all-district center. The ends, too, are fair but still have a lot of room for improvement, especially defensively.
For guards and tackles matches can be used at present, but their is good material on hand and will probably be ready when the game starts. Hondo has a good team on paper and will have a good team on the field also.
But unless the team develops a fighting spirit—an aggressive and a desire to win—they won't go far. No loafing and plenty of scrap will make the Hondo Owls district champs, at least, next year.

AMOS R. WELLS.

A NINETEEN-HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY

As this year and month and week we reach the nineteen-hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Holy Spirit into our world, the hearts of all Christians are filled with new joy at the thought of the Comforter whom the Father has sent in the name of the Son. Not even the coming of Christ among men was so blessed an event as the coming of this third person of the Trinity to be with us forever. The coming of the Son meant our salvation; the coming of the Spirit meant our regeneration.
There is one note in the account of the first Pentecost that should stand out especially in our grateful thought, and that is the fulness of it.
Christ had said that He came that we might have life, and have it abundantly. The Holy Spirit is the abounding life of which He spoke.
So let Pentecost lift us up into the splendor of Christianity. Let it make heroes and saints of us. Let it transform us forever from the mediocre and the commonplace. Let us be from this day Spirit-filled souls.
"It filled all the house . . . It sat upon each one of them . . . They were all filled with the Holy Spirit."

Every man is a better citizen and every woman is a better homemaker when in a home of their own. It should be the ambition of every young man to be a home-owner.

It is a far cry from America's Democratic theory of freedom to worship God according to the dictates of one's own conscience and Soviet Russia's practice of forbidding any exercise of religion. If Americans are wise they will guard their freedom with zealous care.

The census now being taken indicates a falling off in rural population and an unhealthy increase in urban population. Bread-lines in the cities and abandoned farms in the country do not mean well for our nation. More farming as a mode of living and more people on the farms is the nation's greatest safety.

It is useless to deplore lawlessness until the laws are such as the people are willing to enforce. The bootlegger will continue to ply his trade as long as he knows that the jurors who must indict him and try him are his customers or are their own manufacturers at home. And so long as one law is flouted there are those who will plead it in justification of other crimes.

The latest hopeful to woo the gubernatorial lightning is T. W. Davidson. His bid for favor is a suggestion that all the candidates for governor submit their candidacy to a conference and let the conference select a candidate for the people to support in the July primary. Perhaps the hope that in the shuffle he might be shaken out of the box is the reason why Whit loses sight of the fact that there is no law providing for such a scheme and that it would—if it were done—be violative of the spirit if not the letter of our election law. Best look up some better scheme.

In times of disaster or crisis, humane considerations, aside from any question of right or justice involved, have prompted a generous government to afford a temporary relief to the afflicted by means of a remission of taxes over a stated period. This is a form of relief that brings immediate and material help to the needy and is justified by that saving human trait of generosity that prompts the fortunate to joy in dividing the fruits of good fortune with the less fortunate. Everybody admits that the farmers face a crisis, and everybody is advocating some form of relief for them. But strange to say, none of the proposed means emanating from our law-making bodies has ever yet taken this simple, direct and easy means of real relief. On the contrary, it was actually seriously proposed in the late session of the Texas Legislature to "relieve" the cotton farmer by taxing him out of the business of cotton growing! If the "powers that be" in our legislative bodies want to afford the cotton farmer "relief," let them, instead of trying to tax him out of the game, remit his taxes on his farm, graduated in proportion to his reduction of cotton acreage and his increase in sod land, and you will see SOME acreage reduction. But so long as the farmer in the cotton belt is told to plant more grain and less cotton and the grain farmer in the grain belt to raise less grain and more live stock—that can not be fed at a profit now—would-be farm relievers are going to get little else but a laugh for their pains from the men on the ground.

SHOW US THE WAY.

Representative Phil L. Sanders of the 9th district, among other things writes us as follows:

"The tax of $1 per ton upon the production of sulphur was intended to secure a fair percentage of the sulphur industry's tremendous profits for our impoverished educational institutions and TO LIGHTEN THE TAX-BURDEN OF THE SMALL LAND AND HOME OWNER."

Mr. Sanders is the author of this proposed sulphur tax measure and seems to be greatly peeved because the legislature levied a 55c tax instead of a dollar, and adds just three paragraphs down:

"The House of Representatives, at the closing hour of the Legislature, was crowded to the wall and was forced to accept the pitiful sum of 55c per ton in order to get anything at all for the SADLY NEGLECTED SCHOOL CHILDREN of the State."

"However, this fight has just begun. We now bring the battle to the people of Texas. They should see that no man shall be sent to the Senate or House of Representatives unless he represents the PEOPLE OF THE STATE rather than the special interests—unless he is irrevocably committed to a fair sulphur tax, which is not less than $1 per ton. These interests will attempt to elect men to office who are friendly to their cause. We predict that at the coming elections this State will be secretly flooded with campaign funds reeking with sulphur fumes. It is up to every patriotic citizen to rise up and fight this situation."

It having taken him only two short paragraphs to drop the noble effort "TO LIGHTEN THE TAX-BURDEN OF THE SMALL LAND AND HOME OWNER," one can but fear he will as inadvertently drop his solicitude for the "SADLY NEGLECTED SCHOOL CHILDREN"—neglected at a time when the state is spending more money—in fact and in service it gets—on its schools than ever before!

Until Mr. Sanders points out some specific measure provided for removing the tax-burden from the small land and home owner and shows wherein the school children are suffering for lack of funds paid in, we are reluctantly forced to the conclusion that his proposition is merely another scheme to mulct the wealth of the state to feed tax-eaters.

We would like to think otherwise. Show us the way!

Don't go sniffing for sulphur—we furnish our own brimstone!

LIKES OUR SELECTION.

A writer in Fletcher Davis' State Rights Farming, published out at Hondo, has the following gem of a poem:

The fairest flower that ever bloomed
And shed its fragrance on the air
Is often hid away, entombed
By haughty pride or wordly care.

Yet this flower blooms throughout the year
It knows no climate, latitude;
In hearts of men its roots appear,
The flower's name is Gratitude.

Next to being a good writer, is being a good selector of articles, and Editor Davis shows he is past master by the foregoing.—Fred Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

THE IMPERIAL POWER.

"Men who pin their faith to machinery are blind to what is and always will be the controlling force in the progress of mankind, the imperial power of human personality. In the perfection of that human order to which all humanity aspires, the man in any station who remembers this important principle will make the largest contribution to the general good."—H. G. Taylor, American Railway Association.

STILL SINGING OUT OF TUNE.

Lynch Davidson continues to sing out of tune.

His hymn of hate, aimed jointly at Dan Moody and Jim Ferguson, having failed to evoke the rallying response he had hoped for, he now turns on Chairman Raskob and "out-Loves" Tom Love himself in trying to make an issue in Texas out of an out-of-state matter.

In the recent "feeler" sent out in his tentative race for governor, he says Raskob's removal should be urged by the party convention and in the next breath admonishes the candidates that they must "throw no bombs which might wreck party solidarity."

By all means not; throwing bombs and disturbing party solidarity must be left to Lynch.

It is solely his prerogative.

It is quite in keeping with the fatuous political tactics of a man who preaches party harmony with one breath and sounds a discordant note the next to be advising Democrats down here in Texas to throw a man out of a national Democratic position, and all because he is not a prohibitionist—as if a man could be either the one thing and the other at the same time—while Democratic conventions in other states are declaring against prohibition.

Lynch should get in tune or quit trying to be the band leader.

PRUDENCE ESSENTIAL TO SAFETY.

These are uncertain times for agriculture.

The government's efforts at farm relief have not yet afforded relief.

But its efforts to relieve through setting up an entirely new system of marketing for the farmer—wheat, cotton, wool, etc., has upset the old system, that has served the farmers for years, and filled the marketing agents with uncertainty.

Such condition must continue to exist till the new system works and eliminates the old or fails and leaves the old to function unhindered.

In the meantime, the unsettled condition in the market field must react in low prices to the producers of these commodities.

Therefore, the dictates of common sense and ordinary prudence would admonish us to make this a year of first of all, living at home; and secondly, of producing a variety of products for the market to the end that should one or more fail to show a profit the loss would not be so overwhelming as if one placed his entire faith in one crop that failed.

THINKS WE ARE CORRECT.

Ex-Governor Ferguson's expected announcement for governor has materialized. Now if the politicians who are afraid to meet him in an open break fail to find another judicial high-jacker to slug him out of the race by trumped-up judicial procedure there will be some lively scrap in Texas this summer.—Fletcher's Farming, Hondo, Texas.

Fletcher's Farming has it summed up correct.

Jas. Ferguson has proven his fidelity to the farmers, the penitentiary and all state institutions, and when the campaign gets warmed up, he's going to make some one sit up and take notice.—Texas World.

Laws need first of all to be wise; to be wise they must be right; being right, cheerful observance and not forced obedience will be the rule.

THE RIVALS.

By R. L. Campbell.

God made the country but man made the city,
Each loves his own, for the other has pity;
Thus it is the city where the vices abound
While out in the country true virtue is found.

Men go to the city when seeking for wealth
But rush to the country when seeking for health;
God's air in the country is always so pure
That diseases of men it often will cure.

But what of the city, the product of man?
Its dust, smoke and soot, they are hither and yan;
Its moral surroundings are often obscene
While physical bodies are never quite clean.

Its radiant beauties exhaust all their powers
To equal the beauty of God's lovely flowers;
But the beauties of Nature they cannot out-do

For no product of man can rival the dew.

Thus nothing the man of the city has made
Can equal the country in sunshine or shade;
City marts of pleasure cannot satisfy
Like strolls through the country where God is so nigh.

For God made the country, man made the city,
Each loves his own, for the other has pity.
Thus give me the country, its virtue, its health
Nor envy the city its vices nor wealth.

THEN LET US BE UP AND DOING.

By Fletcher Davis.

'Tis human weakness to delay
And with regrets in vain to pay;
For from those who procrastinate
Comes the despairing cry—"too late!"

Oh, a heritage of sorrow
Is his who seeks from tomorrow
Time, wasted in a heedless way,
To do the tasks meant for today!

Then let us be up and doing,
That we never may be ruing
Our visions splendid that have fled,
Or golden hopes vanished and dead!

ATTAINMENT.

By Ralph Marie Audrieth.

Would that I could grasp my vision
And pour forth from my very soul
The poignant loveliness of just one dream,
Just one ecstatic, beautiful dream
That leaves me breathless, nigh in throes
Of pure and unencumbered thought.
Then would I know that I have done
Just one thing well; and I would rest,
Content that I have bared my soul
And drawn a picture that will live,
As evidence of these my thoughts;
My claim for the realms of Poesy.

SONNY, DEAR.

(Deceased February 27, 1930, in a fall from a window while attending University.)

By Mrs. Elizabeth Giles Winn.

Sonny, Dear, you gazed deep into my tearful eyes a-while,
Then slipped from me to State, with your evanescent smile.
In some strange way I sensed it would be our last adieu—
Only a haunting memory of a smile, a kiss and you.

Then a few shadowy weeks dragged achingly by,
I facing the future with many a sigh;
Then one morning, as the sun soared higher,
(Could it have been in sympathy with my mother-desire?)
Suddenly its glory was overcast in the sky
At the moment your bright life took its venture on high.

With frenzied premonition I sought to reach you by phone
When a message crossed my message that turned me to stone.
Sonny? . . . You say my Sonny is dead?
Why such words have you distressingly said?
You tell me he died alone—in a fall—my Sonny dear—
That great, courageous heart that never knew fear?
You speak so ruthlessly and expect me to bear—
You expect of me things and Sonny not here?

Unfathomable life, why am I left petrified and drear,
Let me closely cling to Christ who suffered more than I.
He'll raise me and somehow I shall resolutely try

To adhere to His life and Sonny's, who also tried,
Who lived a Carnegie hero, and thus he nobly died,
Leaving for me that same bewitching smile
With which he faced life's worries all the while.

Fate, you've defied me at the cross-roads toward my goal;
Still I'll struggle to lift my soul to Sonny's soul,
And each time as I gaze so earnestly on high
I'll find his blue eyes mirrored in the sky
Tho I'll seem to tread the earth mechanically, those I love
Will know I'm watching drifting shadows in the sky above—
Wondering why—oh why—why—Sonny must die!

Sonny, Dear, you'll wait for me on that eternal shore,
As I "Follow You" in love and courage all the more and more!

MY SOUL.

Ethel Osborn Hill.

Sky-high and sea-deep is the soul inside me
Where strands of music and beauty are curled
In bales and bundles so tightly fastened
That I cannot loose them to show the world.

But ever I tug, with patient fingers
At the knots that are tied so hard and tight
Could I loose just one . . . just one small bundle—
I would show to the world my treasures bright.

But try as I will, the cords grow tighter
. . . my eyes are wet and my fingers bleed
And the years are passing, swiftly, swiftly
While my dull lips strive to sing my creed.

(Did I not know the treasures there
I would not feel this mute despair!)

OUT IN GOD'S COUNTRY.

By Adda May Hamaker.

Out in God's country,
How beautiful it is!
Out in the bright sunshine,
And the pure air of His.

Out in God's country,
The birds are glad and sing,—
Sweet and gay and cheerful
Their merry voices ring.

Out in God's country,
With miles and miles of space
And God's own azure blue
Is all that hides His face

And yet we see His smiles Reflected everywhere,
For "all God made was good,
And he pronounced it fair."

Out in God's country,
Where one can breath free air
Man finds his heritage
For God's hand placed it there.

IF I HAD ONLY KNOWN.

By Preston Ivy.

Sages tell since olden time,
In the ages that have flown,
In simple prose and rhythmic rhyme,
"If I had only known!"

The boy wades out in the river wide,
Beyond his depth to drown,
And gurgles, sinking 'neath the tide,
"If I had only known!"

The woman who in sin meets death,
Whose virtue long has gone,
Sighs and gasps with her last breath,
"If I had only known!"

And thus it is, so old men tell,
In sad and mournful tone,
'Tis the constant wail of the damned in hell,
"If I had only known!"

Not as I seem to be
But love me as I am;
Judge not my manner, cold
Reserve is but a sham.

No one has known the heart
That you alone, would see;
Naught but the soul of you
Could sense the inner me.

Not as I seem to be,
No, that would never do;
Please love me as I am
That's how I worship you.
"Amies Poems"

TO A WHITE WATER LILY.

By Louise Dillon.

How beautiful your wax-like petals are,
Your heart of gold is like a twinkling star;
On bed of green holding the sunshine bright,
But ever reaching up toward the light.
From depths that are dark you are an exile,
Such wonder emerging from pool so vile;
Your stainless beauty holds only the pure
Which is the only life that can endure.
In each life is there a germ so fair and good?

That seeking we could find it if we would?
Or life, so full of mystery unsought,
Teach us to see the beauty as we ought.
And like this waxen lily pure and white,
To help some soul in flight to find the light.

tion of a kitchen, mess hall and sanitary equipment. A building committee, composed of V. A. Brown of Rock Springs, Chaplain John Mac Williams of Fort Clak, John A. Smylie of Sabinal and the Scout Executive, will begin work immediately by curbing the newly dug well down to the solid rock with reinforced concrete, thereby preventing the drinking water from ever being contaminated through surface drainage. After the well is cleaned out and the pump installed, the other construction will go forward as funds can be provided.

The Central Power and Light Company, under the direction of J. A. Smylie, Local Manager of Sabinal, is offering the services of its engineering department in making a survey and topographical map. The building locations will be made this week.

We are assured by the State Nursery Department that we are to have its co-operation in developing the pecan grove on the camp site. J. A. Simpson, Pecan Specialist of Uvalde, spent the day on the camp site, and made an offer to the Executive Board to top work fifty trees stating that they could be budded the following summer in camp, under the direction of the State Nursery Department.

Taking everything into consideration, it was an epoch-making day for Scouting in Southwest Texas. Scouts let's remember the date, Camp opens for you on Wednesday morning, August the 6th, for eight days full of romance, fun and adventure. Begin saving your camp fee today.

A NEW INDUSTRY FOR EVERY TEXAS TOWN.

For the next decade, Texas' battle cry should be "A new industry for every Texas town."

Almost every town and city in Texas has some very worthwhile inducements to offer industry; and, by way of evening the score, industry has worthwhile offers to make to Texas' towns and cities.

A notable instance of this truth is offered in the situation at Schulenberg. An evaporated milk plant recently was established there and where cash was comparatively scarce all over the country, Schulenberg enjoyed a reasonably plentiful supply.

It is the consensus of opinion that more than upon anything else, Texas' future prosperity depends upon a substantial industrial development and expansion.

It is an encouraging symptom therefore, to see so many candidates for Texas' next legislature, committing themselves to a friendly attitude toward industry.

When industry is made to feel it is welcome in Texas, and that the state entertains no disposition to discriminate against it, a quickened industrial development immediately will be discerned.

And that development is something in which no Texas town is too small, or too big, to participate.

Every Texas town and city should at once take stock of its industrial possibilities and herald them to all the world. Industry will listen, because it is seeking new fields nearer to sources of raw materials and more centrally located with reference to the southwestward movement of population.

Today Texas is more substantially a population center than ever before and certainly there is no state in the union with more to offer in the way of an adequate and constantly available supply of raw materials.

It is high time that Texas capitalized upon its industrial advantages — Editorials of the Month.

THE PRICE OF A CLEAN HOME.

Most women take a distinct pride in their homes, says a local official of the Gulf Refining Company. They insist on keeping them clean and attractive. They realize the true value of cleanliness and wholesome surroundings.

It takes a vigilant woman to keep the home pleasant and comfortable. The cleaning of a home is not merely a matter of sweeping out the dirt and dusting the furniture. These days it means keeping out vermin and insects.

An infestation of insects will render the most attractive home a place of doubtful comfort. No one likes the "creepy" feeling that goes with bugs.

Housewives who have gone through an experience with insects need no urging to constantly use a good type of spray insecticide as they clean. It is but a very few years since some of the large oil refining companies have developed this spray-type of insecticide, which has been a boon to housewives and has simplified their problem of keeping the home insect-free.

Disease lurks wherever there are insects. Flies carry many dangerous diseases, so do mosquitoes and bed bugs. Roaches contaminate and destroy your food. They embarrass you before your friends.

Most any insect infestation can be readily controlled by the regular use of a good insecticidal spray, which can be easily purchased from any hardware dealer, grocer, druggist or department store, and, which, are at present being advertised in this paper by some of the large oil refining companies.

TEXAS IN THE BEST SELLERS

More and more Texas and Texans become material for the "best sellers."

Probably "The Raven," written about the dynamic personality of Sam Houston, will establish new records for popular biography.

For interest and color, Stuart Henry's "Conquering Our Great American Plains" relies almost entirely upon those Texas cowmen who drove their herds up the Chisholm Trail to Abilene.

Again, Walter E. Taylor's "A Knight of the Dixie Wilds" is little more than a Texas romance.

Book reviewers on Texas newspapers are particularly pleased with this new-day development. They see in it a movement which will redound to the benefit of the state in more ways than one. First, it will assist in popularizing the state as a tourist mecca; but more important still, it will provide inspiration for Texas writers and encourage them to use material with which they are most familiar and which, at the same time is most popular with the reading public.—Editorials of the Month.

ILL 12 YEARS KONJOLA WINS REAL VICTORY.

Stubborn Case Soon Yields to Power of New Medicine — Grateful Lady Eager to Tell Others

MRS. LILLIAN LORANE.

"I suffered for twelve years from kidney trouble and nervousness," said Mrs. Lillian Lorane, Mablevale, Ark., near Little Rock. "My kidneys were in very bad state and I was forced to rise many times each night. This naturally made sleep very difficult. My nerves were in very bad condition and this seemed to affect my eye sight. I could scarcely go about my work and I was worried and discouraged. I seemed to have no energy for anything."

"I tried a great many medicines and treatments but nothing seemed to do me the least bit of good. I finally decided to give Konjola a trial and the benefit which I received from this medicine is almost unbelievable. Konjola built up my health until I am in better condition than I have been in years. My kidneys are normal and I can sleep without interruption. My entire system seemed to respond to this modern medicine and my friends all remark upon the improvement in my appearance."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. Taken after meals over a period of from six to eight weeks this great medicine has made a remarkable record in the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Hondo, Texas at W. H. Windrow's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body must have every day to function properly) purify your blood of harmful acids, and aid the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it is impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just so long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly fat disappears, you feel better than ever before—you're younger, more energetic. You'll soon possess that enviable beauty, clear skin, sparkling eyes, superb figure which only perfect health can impart.

An 85c bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at W. H. Windrow's or any progressive druggist in America. Money back if it is the safest, quickest, easiest way to lose fat.
